Welcome to the 1996 edition of the Lions' Roar! Early in the fall of 1995 when our book was still in the planning stages, the staff decided that we wanted to try a slightly different arrangement of events in our book. We realized that some sections such as Faculty, Underclassmen, and Seniors would have to remain unchanged, but we wanted to do something to make the Activities, Sports, and Clubs sections just slightly unique. The result is the book that you hold before you. In looking at the table of contents, you will notice that we have organized the book by seasons. Thus everything dealing with a particular season, including sports and activities, is found under that respective section. The idea of seasons is also reflected in our cover — a piece of original artwork by senior Erika Berkey with help from Mike Hommé. Our divider pages are also original artwork by Jennifer Smith. We hope that this new configuration of events enhances your enjoyment of this yearbook.

Dedication

The staff of the 1996 Lions' Roar has selected two important individuals to whom we dedicate our publication.

Since 1988 Mr. Gustafson has taught English at West Boylston High School. During that time, he has proven himself to be an exceptional teacher and a dedicated faculty member. Mr. Gustafson's English classes are some of the most rigorous and demanding courses in the high school. He sets exacting and challenging standards for his students. It is a tribute to Mr. Gustafson's teaching abilities that his classes, despite their difficulty, always seem enlivened with a true vibrancy that fosters active learning and inspires students to perform at the peak of their abilities. Mr. Gustafson's commitment to students is not simply contained within the confines of his famous Course Description Sheets. As our class advisor, Mr. Gustafson is always willing to offer his assistance. Additionally, he guides seniors year after year as they prepare their college applications. Not only is he willing to write teacher recommendations for students, but he also generously assists students in refining their application essays to truly reflect their best abilities. As the restructuring coach for the entire high school, Mr. Gustafson added to his teaching duties the unenviable task of helping the faculty design a block scheduling system for the high school that will be implemented during the 96-97 school year. In every job that he assumes Mr. Gustafson consistently proves himself to be a consummate professional and a true model of dedication.

After thirty-eight years of teaching Mr. Joseph Garofoli is retiring. Mr. Garofoli came to West Boylston High School as a study hall monitor in 1958. He left to enter the service and returned in 1960 to teach French. Over the years he has also taught History, English, Special Education, and Physical Education. In addition to his teaching duties, he has been coaching sports at West Boylston High School since 1961. Currently he is the assistant varsity football coach, the J.V. girl's basketball coach, and the girl's varsity softball coach. In the past, he has led the boys varstiy basketball team to five Clark Tournament victories.

Mr. Garofoli has touched the lives of many people - students and faculty past and present . It is obvious that Mr. Garofoli is a caring, giving man. To dedicate his life to teaching and improving the lives of young people was the greatest gift he could have given any of us. Everyone here will miss him tremendously. Hopefully he will return to cry at all the major events.

On behalf of the entire school and especially the Class of 1996, the yearbook staff salutes and thanks both of these faculty members.

Special Thanks

The editor of the 1996 Lions' Roar wishes to extend his thanks to several individuals whose assistance has been of great importance and benefit to our class. First and foremost, I would like to thank our yearbook advisor, Mrs. Sheila Tetler, whose countless hours of hard work and skillful leadership have contibuted invaluably to the success of our book. Our class advisors, Mr. Gustafson, Mrs. Babineau, Mrs. Parker, and Mr. Silven have been a tremendous source of guidance. I would like to recognize Mrs. Roy who coordinated our graduation and Mrs. Johnson who organized our class song. We are also indebted to Mrs. Linda Ritter whose organizational skills were largely responsible for the success of our advertising campaign. The Rev. Steven Small, Pastor of the First Congregational Church, was an inspiring source of leadership in the planning of our Baccalaureate Service. We thank our administrators -- Mrs. Doherty with her quiet, unassuming manner, composed demeanor, and hours upon hours of behind the scenes work, and Mrs. Bullock who always maintains a strong sense of dignity and a clear sense of purpose while being stuck in the position of making sometimes unpopular but just decisions. Finally, I would like to thank Jostens Printing and Publishing, our ever reliable, highly competent, and efficient representative, Dan Smith, and Hilton Photography for their contributions to this yearbook.

... and the seniors were hailed as the winners.

This year's Homecoming was a festive, eventful week. Students honored the annual tradition of dressing up in costumes for Homecoming. Come As You Are Day started off the week; students enjoyed coming to school in their pajamas. However, that was not the case on Tuesday, Opposite Sex Day, especially for the guys. The guys came in with dresses, miniskirts, and wigs , and the girls put on hats,jeans,and sweatshirts. Wednesday, Class Color Day, was the most anticipated day for the Seniors. Dressed in their yellow shirts, they were ready to defend to their tug-of-war championship for the third straight year . They dominated the opposition and won. After the event was formally over, the seniors were a bit over-confident and challenged the whole highschool. The outcome will never known because the rope snapped. (Continued on p. 69)

Thursday was a day on which students could represent any decade of the twentieth century. Many students appeared as teenagers from the fifties wearing t-shirts, jeans, and poodle skirts. After school, students went into the gymnasium for the traditional decorating of the gym. The Juniors came out as the victors. To end off the week, everyone wore blue and white on Friday to show their spirit. The annual Homecoming Pep Rally was held during last period in the gym. After all the points were tallied up at the end of the week, the Seniors were hailed as the winners.

...people danced langourously to "We've Got Tonight."

A crew of twenty worked six hours to transform the gymnasium into a festive place for the Homecoming Dance. Purple, black, gold, and silver baloons formed an entryway to the dance floor, where people danced langorously to "We've Got Tonight." Amidst the brisk breezes, the Student Council introduced the titles of Prince and Princess to the underclassmen. There were also the usual titles of King and Queen, which Bob Richardson and Liz Hommé received. The rest of the court included Emily Lehman, Callie Curran, Brendan Leith, and Brian Parker. Prince and Princess honors, for the Juniors, went to Dave Liberis and Jamie Mulryan. The Junior court included Melissa Dame, Sara Roseberry, Mike Fair, and Bill Kwiatkowski. John Earls and Kelly Quinn were Prince and Princess for the Sophomores, and Laurent Benedetti, Brandon Peterson, Lacey Hunt, and Jill Pavone made up the Sophomore court. Brendan Mahoney and Megan Barry were dubbed Prince and Princess for the Freshmen. Their court consisted of Kim Rotti, Heidi Peterson, Tim Curran, and Joe Cavan.

This year's Senior Play, Robin Hood, was a smashing success! With Jamie Contonio as Robin Hood and Sarah Parker as Maid Marian, the W.B. stage was HOT with action, suspense, and love (so we spent an hour perfecting Jamie and Sarah's kiss...it was good, right?). Other oustanding actors include Mike Mulryan as the evil Sheriff of Nottingham, Jeff Gordon as the Bishop of Hereford (always willing to get a pie in the face!), and Richard Giarusso as vile King John. The Royal Foresters and Merry Men always had humerous encounters! The whole cast enjoyed the fun of working with each other and under the direction of drama department head, Mr. Steven White. Greg Zakarian and Alicia Marinus were honored by being student directors. Even the inclement weather which postponed the play a day couldn't stop the crowd from filling the auditorium. Robin Hood gave the Senior class the pleasure of working together in a witty, medieval comedy! Great job everyone!

Finishing the season with a 4-6 record, the Lions Varsity Football Team overcame injuries and long road trips to stay in nearly every game. Powered by a potent running game, the team had victories over Manchester, Oxford, David Prouty, and Grafton. The win over Grafton in the annual Thanksgiving game was undoubtedly the highlight of the season. Despite being the underdog to the talented Grafton team, the Lions took the Indians out of their game plan. West Boylston, after dominating for four quarters, won the game by a score of 24-6. Brian Boyle, David Draleaus, and Brian Parker served as captains for the season. Other seniors included Kevin Hall, Mike Hommé, Kevin Neary, Jim Pedone, Bob Richardson, Ed Valley, and Jason Valentine. These seniors, often playing both offense and defense for the entire game, contributed everything that they had to make the team successful. Their work ethic had to leave a lasting impression on the players of the future.

The Girls' Varsity Soccer Team worked hard and had a lot of fun this fall season. Mr. Thomas Aitken coached these girls with great enthusiasm. Tri-captains Stephanie Bebas, Nancy Hubbard, and Emily Lehman led the team along with the help of seniors Amy Germain, Andrea Johnson, and Anita Paskuda. Despite many injuries throughout the season, the girls exhibited tremendous effort, especially against Sutton and Tahanto. Emily Lehman and Nancy Hubbard made the Dual Valley League All-star Team. These two girls both played incredible senior seasons. Next year the team will return many talented sophomores and juniors.

The 1995-96 boys' basketball season was the most exciting one that West Boylston had seen since the early 1980s. Fininshing the season with a record of 12-5, the Lions qualified for the districts for the second consecutive season. The Lions also went one step further by qualifying for the Clark University Tournament. Although the team lost to a talented Quaboag team in the second round of the District III Tournament, West Boylston had many memorable moments to be taken from its season. West Boylston beat Nipmuc for the first time in school history, won the opening round of the Clark Tournament against Narragansett, and defeated a competitive Tahanto team in the first round of the districts. Playing in the Dual Valley Conference, which is considered to be one of the best basketball leagues in Central Massachusetts, the Lions held their opponents to a mere 47.8 points per game. Although Mario Horton single-handedly kept the Lions in many games, the excellent play of many team members, especially Jason Howland, Jason Valentine, and Lewis Larrabee, brought the team's success to another level.

The varsity Lady Lions coached by Richard Priestley had a lot to be proud of this season. Led by Tri-captians Nancy Hubbard, Danielle Wilson and Jamie Mulryan, the girls ended their regular season with a record of 13-4. They won the championship at the Mount Wachusett Community College tournament to bring their record to 16-4. After triumphing over Sutton and Bromfield in the districts the Lady Lions met Narragansett at WPI in the District E, Division III finals. Although the Lions failed to come out of top, West Boylston was proud of their season. The team graduated one senior, Nancy Hubbard, whose outstanding defense and leadership will be missed. Juniors Becky Rotti and Jamie Mulryan made the Dual Valley League All-star Team and the Telegram and Gazette Division III All-star Team. The team will return strong. No guts, no glory!

The 1996 W.B. Varsity Baseball team had one of the best seasons in recent memory. On May 14th, the team beat Hopedale to qualify for the districts for the first time since 1988. Although West Boylston was eliminated in the first round of district play, the year will be remembered as a great one. After losing their first two games, the Lions went on to win ten out of the next eleven games. The team finished second in the Dual Valley Conference with a league record of 10-4. The key to the team's success was the outstanding pitching of Keith Bianchini, Jason Valentine, Andy LaPlume, Matt Clark, Lewis Larrabee, and captain Bob Richardson. The highlights of the season included come-from-behind victories over Nipmuc and league champion Douglas. Chris Shea, Brendan Leith, and Keith Bianchini were selected as 1996 DVC All-Stars.

The girls had a very young but talented team. Only two senior girls participated, Laurie Bohlin and Meghan Sullivan. Next year's track team should have a strong showing, despite competing in a more challenging division. Freshman Meghan Barry broke a long-standing record in the 880-yard dash with a time of 2 minutes, 37 seconds. Although the girls did not win many meets, they were usually within a few points of victory.

The boys' team, although not large in numbers, was very dedicated. The boys were led by seniors Dave Draleaus, Brian Boyle, Mike Hommé, and Kevin Hall. Mike Hommé broke a twenty-eight year record in the high jump by clearing 6 feet, 2 inches. The team is looking forward to future seasons hoping that many underclassmen will stick with the track program.

(clockwise from top left) "I think I can, I think I can." "On your mark, get set, go!!" Kelly competes in the discus event. "Up and over, Sydney." Captain Dave Draleaus. "Run Jamie, run."

Tennis

The girls' tennis team had a competitive and rewarding 1996 season. The loss of the team's first and second singles players forced many players into positions that they were not familiar with. Because of the inclement weather during the season, the team was faced with a grueling last two weeks of three home and five away games. Seniors Andrea Johnson, Alicia Marinus, Melissa Drew, and Kim Erickson will be greatly missed. As usual, Coach Irene Gray did a commendable job of keeping the team's spirits up during a tough season.

Play Competitions

The annual Class Play Competitions were presented on the evening of April 26. This year, due to the generosity of the Ellison Foundation, the performing arts department was able to present four new awards in addition to best play: Best Actress (Kelly Dupuis), Best Actor (Mike Mulryan), Best Supporting Player (Sarah Parker), and Best Set Design (Class of 1996). The judges' task of choosing the best play was certainly not an easy one as each class presented a very excellent production. In the end, the side-splitting antics of the seniors in "Laffin' School" swayed the judges to declare the Class of 1996 the victors of the evening.

(top left) Alisha, Kelly, Liz, Mike, Meg, and Wesley in the Juniors' "Happily Never After." (top right) Sydney and Pete prove that the Sophomores know how to dress in their play. Melissa, Rose, Jill, and Laurent show what a happy family they were. Everyone pays tribute to Pete as Birdie.

On the weekend of May 10 and 11, the Performing Arts Workshop presented the first musical to be seen at West Boylston High School in quite a few years. This year's production of Bye-Bye Birdie starred Jon Earls as Albert Peterson, Molly Sullivan as Rose Alvarez, Rose Rosko as Kim MacAffee, Pete Bonneau as Conrad Birdie, Laurent Benedetti as Mr. MacAffee, Melissa Drew as Mrs. MacAffee, Jackie Belli as Mrs. Mae Peterson, and Andrea LaVigne as Ursula Merkle. The enthusiastic audience responded favorably to the excellent acting and superb singing of the performers. The vibrant set design reflected many hours of hard work on the part of the art students. The musical was a smashing success and re-established a precedent for future high-quality productions of this kind at West Boylston. Many thanks to Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Tetler, and Mr. White for providing the artistic leadership necessary for the success of this daunting undertaking.

The Junior-Senior Prom: "Standing on the Moon"

After pictures were taken in the high school auditorium the festivities began at Wachusett Country Club. As the evening progressed the Juniors danced languorously so that the king, the queen, and the court could be chosen from the throng of enthusiastic prom-goers. Jamie Mulryan, Amy Bianchini, Leia Roberts, Becky Rotti, Liz Banks, Jennifer O'Neil, and Rose Rosko were selected as members of the court; Billy Kwiatkowski and Annie FitzGerald were crowned king and queen of this year's prom.

Baccalaureate

The Senior Baccalaureate held on the evening of Thursday, June 6, was an emotion-filled evening for the members of the Class of 1996 and for all of our guests gathered in the auditorium. After the greeting by the Rev. Steven Small, the class walked in to the strains of "Here I Am, Lord" with verses sung by the Rev. Small, Mr. David Gustafson, and Richard Giarusso. Following the processional, Mr. Tom Faucher read the invocation. Sarah Parker, Richard Giarusso, and Joel Roberts each presented a Scripture reading; Emily Lehman, Liz Hommé, and Nancy Hubbard recited poems; and Katie McCormick, Callie Curran, and Anita Paskuda reflected on the past. The Senior Singers sang "Till we Meet Again" accompanied by Mrs. Mary Been on piano and Richard Giarusso on violin. Mr. Gustafson delivered the Message to the Class and played an Adagio for clarinet by Richard Wagner. After the video presentation and Mary Shea's vocal solo, Mike Mulryan presented a poignant dedication to the parents. This portion of the service was followed by the traditional distribution of the roses to the parents while "The Rose" was sung by Molly Sullivan. The Rev. Small led the audience in singing "On Eagle's Wings" as the class recessed. The Rev. Bruce Allen ended the powerful evening with his benediction.

Graduation

The graduation exercises for the Class of 1996 were held on the evening of Friday, June 7, 1996. After the class processed into the gym, Senior class president, Liz Hommé gave the welcome address. Class vice-president, Mike Mulryan presented the class gift to Mrs. Bullock and our advisor's gift to Mr. Gustafson. Co-editors of the yearbook, Richard Giarusso and Emily Lehman, announced the dedication of this year's book to Mr. Gustafson and Mr. Garofoli.

Honors graduate Joel Roberts gave a speech focusing on the importance of service throughout our lives. Salutatorian Brendan Leith delivered an address centering on the virtues of teamwork before introducing Valedictorian Richard Giarusso who spoke about ways to deal with the element of waiting in our lives. Mrs. Grace Johnson led the seniors in our class song, "In my life," while Sarah Parker, Joel Roberts, Mike Hommé, Matt Clark accompanied on piano, guitars, and percussion respectively. Principal Francine Bullock next presented the scholarships and awards. Mrs. Katharine Sawdon, Chairperson of the West Boylston School committee addressed the class before awarding the diplomas.

As the academic year draws to a close we enter the season of summer - the season that begins throughout the country with the celebration of graduations. It is a season of transition.

It is fitting that summer is the only season not covered in our book. As the Class of 1996 graduates, we enter the greatest transitional period of our lives to date — the transition to post-high school life. Whatever path each of us chooses to follow we will no longer be united as a single class. As we move into the summer and look forward to the challenges that life will hold, may we all keep in mind the seasons we have spent together and the transitions that we made as a class. The yearbook staff hopes that the Class of 1996 will be able to face the summer of our graduating year with firmly rooted confidence and success in whatever endeavors we chose.
